TAMPA -- A Tampa law firm is branching out into a new playing field.

Williams Schifino Mangione & Steady has formed a subsidiary, Team One Sports Management, to capture sports management business with athletes.

Ken Turkel and John Agliano, both partners in the firm, are part of the advisory group to oversee Team One.

Agliano was formerly associate general counsel for the New York Yankees from 1994 to 1996. Rich Arena, another advisory team member, is director of scouting, charged with finding the talent before anyone else.
