

Armando Castellon
Jesuit High School Varsity Assistant Coach

Armando Castellon is starting his third year at Jesuit. Coach Castellon had played baseball with Coach Warren as kids growing up. Since then, Coach Castellon attended H. B. Plant High School graduating in 2000. Coach Castellon played all the positions on the field in his time at Plant. As a two-year letterman in baseball under Pat Russo, he started to coach in the Plant JV system after graduation. After two years in JV, Coach Castellon joined the Varsity staff with Head Coach Bo Puckett in 2003. In 2007, Coach Castellon joined the Jesuit family and coached the Junior Varsity team, as well as helped the Varsity team. Coach Castellon joined the Varsity squad full time in 2008 and hopes to help the team reach its goals.

Coach Castellon attended University of South Florida earning both a Management and Accounting degree. Today, he is studying for the CPA exam.

Coach Castellon has been working with the Philadelphia Phillies High Minor A team in Clearwater as a batting practice pitcher (Clearwater Threshers, 2004 - Present). Coach Castellon was part of the Clearwater Threshers Florida State League Championship Season in 2007.
