

Davey May Named D3 Baseball All-American

By Joshua Mraz, Interim SID
May 20, 2009

Senior Davey May was selected as a 2009 First Team D3 Baseball All-American. This is the first time in school history that a Mariners baseball player has garnered All-American honors. The selections were announced on Wednesday morning.

May broke six school records for the 2009 season, homeruns in a season (13), career homeruns (19), RBI in a season (57), games played (36), hits in a season (64) and runs in a season (43). He finished the year with a batting average of .464, 16 stolen bases, four doubles and four triples. He also had a slugging percentage of .833 with an on base percentage of .522. May was named Landmark Conference Player of the Week twice during the season.
